STATE SYSTEM OF GOOD ROADS ADVOCATED AT ANNUAL MEETING OF ASSOCIATION HERE

AMENDMENT FOR N. D. HIGHWAYS SYSTEM URGED

Legislative Committee of Good Roads Association Submits Report
CONVENTION MEETS TODAY
North Dakota Good Roads Association Takes Up Highway Problems

A proposal for the submission of a constitutional amendment to the people of the state incorporating provisions for the establishment of a system of state highways was submitted to the North Dakota Good Roads Association in annual meeting here today, by the legislative committee of the association.

L. J. MOE
President

The legislative committee, represented by Senator Fred W. Mees, of Mandan, chairman, and A. T. Kraebel, former Lieutenant-Governor, conferred with government roads engineers in working out the new proposal for a state highway system.

The amendment proposes to create a state highway system, to be constructed, reconstructed, improved and maintained and controlled as public highways in the state; to extend as nearly as may be practicable from county seat to county seat, east and west, north and south or along recognized registered highways; create a state highway fund by including proceeds of any tax imposed on motor vehicles, motor fuel and any other revenue as is now or shall be provided by law; provides for a state highway commission to be composed of three persons appointed by the governor, eliminating the governor and commissioner of agriculture and labor as ex-officio members.

No bond issue is proposed under the amendment. This proposal, made last year by individuals, has been discarded by the association which has endeavored, it was stated, to provide a basis for a system of state roads which can be gradually expanded as best serves the interest of the state.

Two proposed bills for submission to the legislature also are to be submitted to the association by the legislative committee. One of them defines the powers and duties of the state highway commission, making provisions designed to abolish any politics in that department, and the other providing for re-enactment of the motor vehicle tax on the same basis as at present, but with readjustments in rates which, it is said, would be more equitable.

The legislative committee decided not to present any recommendation for a law providing a tax of one cent on each gallon of gasoline to create a good roads fund, but it is expected that this proposal will be made before the next legislature.

Good Future Seen
The association's meeting got under way in Patterson hall this morning with L. J. Moe, of Valley City, president of the organization, presiding.

Mr. Moe, opening the meeting, said that the organization of the North Dakota Good Roads Association had not been an easy task. During the past summer the work of maintaining the organization was not a pleasant job, he said, but added that the turn in the road had been reached and the association now was in such a position that the officers and directors feel confident of the future. He praised Secretary W. E. Holbein for his indefatigable efforts for the association.

Mr. Moe declared it was highly necessary to have an organization in North Dakota which would push through state legislation necessary to enable North Dakota to profit from the federal aid provided in the Townsend bill.

A. T. Kraebel presented two amendments changing the by-laws of the association. One provided for a director in each county of the state in (Continued on Page 2)

RECEIVERS ARE ADMONISHED TO CONSERVE CASH

Governor in Letter Tells Them
Encouragement Should be Given to Reopenings

Economy in the operation of closed banks of the state is asked of district receivers by Governor R. A. Nestos in a letter to them, in which the Governor outlines also the administration's policy in handling closed banks.

Cooperation with stockholders in efforts to reopen the banks, if this can be done on a safe basis, is urged by the governor.

"A closed bank is a liability, in the process of rehabilitating the state's finances and credit," the Governor said, "and the fewer the number of closed banks within our state, the more easily can our credit be improved, and our reconstruction completed."

"It is, therefore, the purpose and desire of the banking board that the owners of these banks be permitted, and encouraged to secure the necessary financial assistance, and to so improve the condition of the bank as to make it possible for the bank to reopen. Needless to say, the condition of the bank must be improved so as to leave the depositors of the bank safe, as it would be unfortunate to open a bank in such condition that inside of a few months it would be required to close again, but we want you to know that the Guarantee Fund Commission and the banking board are both of the opinion that the most successful receiver is he who not only manages the banks entrusted to his care with the greatest economy and efficiency, but who also succeeds in inducing the owners of the bank to secure sufficient additional capital, and to so increase the general value of the assets of the bank as to make it safe to reopen, and thus have the bank again become a part of the business life of the community where located."

FARM LABOR CASE TRIED

Plaintiff Seeks to Recover About $1,300 For Work

A jury in district court is hearing the case of C. T. Bratton against W. G. Hoerr, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover about $1,300 alleged to be due as back farm wages for work on the latter's farm near McKenzie, covering a period of several years. Testimony was hearing conclusion in the case this afternoon.

No jury verdicts have been reached this week. The case of J. A. Worden against Sheriff Rollin Welch, in which it was alleged that when the sheriff executed a mortgage on grain he took grain not included in the mortgage, was dismissed by the plaintiff after some testimony had been taken.

Judge Coffey refused to reinstate the case of Michael F. Barth against Eugene Walla and E. T. Burke on the calendar.

NORTH DAK. ROAD PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED

Federal Engineer Says that State Must Have a Program Covering Period of Years

U. S. SUMS AVAILABLE
Says that Federal Aid Has Become Available to North Dakota of Over $5,000,000

North Dakota's highway problem is one of men, money and material, Edwin O. Hathaway of St. Paul, district engineer of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads declared in discussing rather intimately the situation in the state before the convention of the North Dakota Good Roads association.

North Dakota must have a program, clear cut and intelligent, and men are necessary to define a program, he told his hearers. Money must be available for carrying out the program and there must be material which will make a road. Discussing money, Mr. Hathaway called attention to the fact that since 1916, Federal Aid had become available to North Dakota to the amount of $5,387,202.12 as the fifty per cent part of the funds supplied by the government.

Added the states fifty per cent, and money to the amount of ten and two thirds millions had been available for Federal Aid projects in the state not including other state county and township road funds.

"Roads have come high during the past two or three years," Mr. Hathaway told the good roads boosters, "but the mark-down has come and they can now be had for about half price. Let us see to it that every dollar produces a dollar's worth of road and let us not always buy the road that costs the least per mile. If we do we may be throwing away our dollars instead of saving them."

Explains U. S. System.

Mr. Hathaway explained the system of roads recently adopted in Minnesota on which all state and federal moneys will be spent on certain trunk line roads, with other moneys available for the other roads. By the system, according to Mr. Hathaway, Minnesota feels that she has solved some of her road problems.

"The question of material for road building varies with the type of road to be built," Mr. Hathaway continued. "The simplest and cheapest to construct is generally the plain earth road where the material found along the road is cast up by a grader into a turnpike section. It is sometimes the case that very satisfactory material for such construction is found along the right of way. Where this is the case, and the traffic will not justify a more durable or expensive road, the earth road is just the type that should be built. Such roads can be built for a few hundred dollars per mile and it is folly to involve state and federal funds in that class of work. The relative cost of survey, supervision and other overhead expense is too great. When done locally with well organized crews, this class of work has proven to be very economical and satisfactory and under proper conditions and within proper limits it should be encouraged."

Mr. Hathaway recommended gravel for much of the mileage in North Dakota but holding there were some sections where this would not prove best in the long run. He names other materials, "such as scoria, topsoil and rock" as valuable for North Dakota roads. He recommended a comprehensive study of the (Continued on Page 3)

HAS PRAISE FOR THE RED TRAIL

Praise for the National Parks Highway (Red Trail), was voiced here by E. W. James, of Washington, D. C., of the bureau of public roads, at a meeting of the state highway commission yesterday.

"I do not know what you think about it but we in Washington have settled in our minds that this is one of the country's primary roads," said Mr. James.

SELLS LUMBER IN MANDAN YARD

Manager Diehl of Home Builders Association Disposes of 80,000 Feet

Lumber in the Mandan yards of the Home Builders Association was closed out today by Manager Diehl of the association to the Mandan Mercantile Company and the Bingenheimer Lumber company. Some brick remains to be disposed of.

Mr. Diehl is unable to estimate the loss sustained by the state through disposition of surplus stock purchased and stored in open in Mandan, because inventories and sales reports are not clear to him. Lumber was sold in small lots during the summer by the former administration and it is said considerable lumber was stolen. About 80,000 feet was disposed of today at Mr. Diehl said, almost wholesale price.

Yards in Bismarck and Fargo also are to be closed out, much of the lumber being on vacant lots.

MINERS PLAN WAGE DEMANDS

Anthracite Workers To Ask 20 Per Cent Boost

Shamokin, Pa., Jan. 17.—A convention of miners representing all organized mine workers in the anthracite fields called to consider a new wage agreement convened here today. The present working contract entered into in September, 1920, expires March 31.

The convention, according to the officers of the union, will ask for an increase in wages of about 20 per cent, that the wage rate may be made uniform throughout the anthracite fields as far as possible and that hours of men working more than eight hours a day be reduced. A demand for the establishment of the check-off fought for by the union many years in anthracite fields also will be made.

BRIDGE PLANS TO BE DRAWN

Highway Commission to Consult Commissioners on New Proposal

The state highway commission, at a second meeting, held yesterday afternoon in the statehouse, discussed the matter of completing the Bismarck-Mandan vehicular bridge project by building an approach on the west side.

After discussion it was decided to instruct the state engineer to communicate with the Burleigh and Morton county boards of commissioners relative to the proposal to open up the bridge project and include a causeway on the west side as a part of the bridge, and to prepare plans and specifications. It is the expectation that there will be a temporary fill put in to handle traffic next spring when the bridge is opened.

E. W. James, of Washington, D. C., representing the government bureau of good roads, was present. An opinion from the attorney general was to the effect that if the roadway on the west side was deemed a necessary part of the bridge it could legally be included as such.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

SET TRIAL DATE.
Los Angeles, Jan. 17.—Date for the second trial of Arthur C. Burch, indicted for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was set today for March 27. Burch when asked by the judge whether that date was satisfactory replied affirmatively.

Los Angeles, Jan. 17.—The date of a second trial of Arthur C. Burch, indicted for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was expected to be set today in the superior court where yesterday a jury of ten women and two men reported a disagreement and were discharged after a first trial lasting eight weeks. The jury had deliberated two days.

STORY OF MURDER

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 13.—Testimony unusual to the extreme marked the trial of Arthur C. Burch, charged with having murdered J. Belton Kennedy, young Los Angeles real estate broker, as the result of conspiracy with Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, former sweetheart of Kennedy. The trial began November 22, 1921, and after a week had been taken up with the drawing of a jury the prosecution launched into the presentation of witnesses who told among other things of weird dreams, prognostications of a fortune teller, glimpses of Burch flitting about in an automobile on the dark night of August 5 when the tragedy occurred, and keeping watch on Kennedy's offices at other periods.

Through all this ran a thread of Mrs. Obenchain's love affair with Kennedy, established by letters and telegrams in her handwriting which indicated that she had divorced her husband, Ralph R. Obenchain, with expectation of marrying Kennedy. The prosecution contended Kennedy refused to carry out this program; that (Continued on Page 3)

Carrington, N. D., Jan. 17.—Norman McKinnon, 76, unmarried, died in the Carrington hospital as the result of burns received several days previously. Falling from dizziness, he over-turned a small stove, live coals from which fell upon him, while scalding water from a dislodged pan also scalded him, although in spreading about the floor, the liquid probably prevented live coals from fring his home in which he lived alone. It was at first thought he would recover, but poison induced by the burns developed.

Dee Reade, secretary of the hotel and restaurant men's association, says there is a bit of rivalry between the greeters and the hotel and restaurant men regarding their membership and the attendance of their respective organizations.

"It behooves us fellows this year to be on the job at Bismarck, on the morning of the eighteenth, with a gathering that would arouse the enthusiasm of Billy Sunday," he says in a circular to the membership of his association.

SPENDS NIGHT IN JAIL

Gummer Taken to Valley City from Fargo and Spends Night in Jail

PROGRESS SLOW

Valley City, N. D., Jan. 17.—Slight progress had been made this afternoon toward selecting a jury to try William Gummer, Fargo hotel clerk, on the charge of slaying Miss Marie Wick, of Grygla, Minn., at a Fargo hotel in June, 1921. Not a single juror had been chosen from the panel of 50 veniremen called early this afternoon. Four had been named for cause and three dismissed for cause, two of the latter because of statements that they were prejudiced against Gummer.

Valley City, Jan. 17.—Slow progress was made this forenoon in the work of securing the jury to try William Gummer on the charge of murdering Miss Marie Wick in the Prescott hotel in Fargo on the night of June 7 last.

Gummer came into court dressed in the same brown suit which he wore when he appeared in court in Fargo when he was originally charged with the crime.

William C. Green, state's attorney of Cass County, was assisted today in the selection of the jury by L. S. B. Hitch, state's attorney of Barnes county.

Valley City, Jan. 17.—William Gummer, Fargo hotel clerk, was on trial here today in Barnes county district court on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of Marie Wick, Grygla, Minn., who was found beaten to death in Fargo hotel, June 7, 1921.

Eighty-seven witnesses are listed by the state in the case filed against Gummer, but according to Wm. C. Green, Cass county attorney, in charge of the prosecution, but same may not be called.

Photographs taken of the slain girl today before it was disturbed. It is expected to be introduced in evidence showing in detail the manner in which Miss Wick was tied to the bed with stripped bed linen, presumably being beaten to death with the muzzle of a tire hose following criminal assault.

Gummer was arrested two weeks later and obtained a change of venue from Cass county on the plea that feeling there was so intense that it would be impossible to obtain an unprejudiced jury. He was brought here from Fargo last night and spent the night in the Barnes county jail.

Judge Charles M. Cooley of Grand Forks, senior judge of the First Judicial District, will try the case.

Gummer already has entered his plea of not guilty to the murder charge. The selection of the jury was started soon after court convened at 10 A. M. It is expected that all of today will be consumed in obtaining a jury.

Meetings at Evangelical Church Attract Much Attention

Last night at the Evangelical church where the revival campaign continues, a large audience listened to the subject of the U. S. Senator's dinner question, delivered by the pastor, Rev. C. F. Strutz. The text was taken from John 3, 14-15. The greatest offer ever made in this world is God's offer of salvation. It is so simple a child can understand and yet so profound that philosophers are amazed at its greatness.

This salvation offered by Jesus Christ must be accepted by the individual. The devil in his cunning does not try so much to get people to reject this offer as to neglect it. A contract is effective only when the offer has been accepted. So it is with this offer. Does it work? It's the only thing that does. Since God's only begotten Son died to pay the debt for us, if we refuse this Salvation our judgment will be tenfold for tramping on the blood of Jesus.

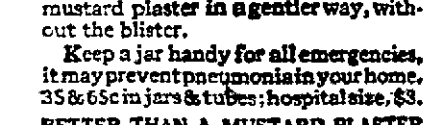

The subject for the meeting tonight will be "Excuses," and tomorrow night "The Devil's Railroad." Everybody is invited.

AUTO INDUSTRY IS STABILIZED

Recent Price Reductions Aid Industry, Says Nash

"The recent price reductions of many of the leading manufacturers have stabilized the automobile industry for the coming year," says C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motors Company.

"Prices, in the main, are now down to an absolute bed rock basis and the industry is prepared to go through the coming season with an aggressive selling campaign unhampered by a disturbance of the buying market which always accompanies frequent price readjustments.

"This great industry is now back practically upon a pre-war basis as far as prices are concerned.

"Take our own company for example. The Nash Six was originally placed upon the market at $1,395, f.o.b. Kenosha. This was before advancing material and labor costs which came with the war brought about a general increase in production costs.

"Today with a new and improved Nash Six—a car to which considerably more than a hundred dollars in value has been added—the new price is $1,390, f.o.b. Kenosha.

"We are actually selling the Nash Six now at a lower price than ever before in the history of our company, taking into consideration the betterments which have actually been made in this car.

"Our recent drastic price reduction was possible only through the expectation that increased buying and a consequent increase in the volume of our output will justify it.

"I believe this to be true of the other reductions just made public.

"DIRT FARMER" ON U. S. BOARD IS REQUESTED

"TR" TRAIL TO BE IMPROVED
Minot, N. D., Jan. 16.—The state highway commission has approved the state's share of the $55,000 to be expended on road projects in McHenry county during the coming summer, according to H. K. Craig, state maintenance engineer, who was in Minot enroute to Rugby to attend the annual meeting of the North Dakota division of the "TR" trail association.

The roads to be improved in McHenry county is some five miles of road on the North Star trail between Velva and the Ward county line, and approximately 10 miles of road running west of Towner on the "TR" trail.

The federal government is also expected to approve its share of the expenditure for the project and the McHenry board of county commissioners has already gone on record as favoring the expenditure by the county of its portion.

KU KLUX KLAN INVESTIGATION STARTS TODAY

Eleven Prominent Citizens of Carter County, Okla., Among Defendants

11 ARE HELD FOR MURDER

Man Made To Leave Sick Bed To Guide Party To Murdered Man's Home

Ardmore, Okla., Jan. 17.—A case which in the words of State's Attorney General S. P. Freeling, "will mean the life or death of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma," will be called here today when eleven of Carter county's most prominent citizens are to be arraigned before Judge Thomas W. Champion in district court for trial on charges of murder.

The defendants, all well known business and professional men of the county, were among seventeen arrested following an attack by five masked men upon Joe Carroll at his home in Wilson the night of December 15 when three men, one of them Carroll, were fatally shot.

Originally, fifteen were held for murder and two as witnesses for the state, but at subsequent sessions of the joint examining trial of seven of the men before Justice D. W. Butcher, the cases against four, one of them a Baptist minister, were dismissed on motion of the prosecution that no evidence was at hand to connect them with the affair.

On this night in mid-December, the state charges, more than 100 men from Ardmore and the surrounding county, all masked and with buckets of tar and pillows of feathers, gathered in a pasture just five miles south of Wilson and later sent eight of their number in two automobiles under the leadership of G. C. Sims, Ardmore police detective, to "get" Joe Carroll. A statement to authorities by one of the defendants shortly after his arrest was to the effect that Sims had persuaded the band of men to accompany him that night "to round up several 'wet' car dealers and bootleggers."

Made to Leave Sick Bed.

Unable to find Carroll's residence, the eight men then called at the home of John Smith in Wilson and one of their number, a relative of Smith, made him leave a sick bed and guide them to Carroll's house, telling him, according to the testimony of Smith's wife at the preliminary hearing, that "you are forced to do it as I have been forced."

When the men called at Carroll's home he answered their summons to the front door and at their command to throw up his hands drew his revolver and wounded one of the men who attempted to wrest it from him. Then amid the screams of women and shouts of men, a gun battle ensued, also participated in by Carroll's brother, who lived next door. When the fierce exchange of rifle and pistol shots subsided and the masked men had fled in their automobiles, Carroll's lifeless body was picked up off his doorstep and John Smith, a few minutes later, was found on a street in Wilson not far from the scene of the engagement, suffering from bullet wounds which within two hours caused his death.

The following day, shortly before noon, Sims' dead body, clad in a suit of khaki uniforms, was found lying in the pasture where twelve hours before he had planned to administer punishment to Carroll for his alleged activities as a bootlegger.

Jeff Smith, the man who was wounded in the affray, guided the authorities to the pasture where Sims' body was discovered and told them, it was brought out at the preliminary trial, that the place had frequently been used as a meeting place for the "Citizens' League or Ku Klux Klan." He is one of the defendants in the case.

Incriminating Evidence.

The custodian of a local lodge hall, in which the Ku Klux Klan rents rooms, testified at the hearing that on the night of the killings, one of the defendants and another man whom he did not recognize, left the "property" room rented by the Ku Klux Klan with bundles under their arms. The defendant admitted in a signed statement to authorities that he was one of those who later met in the pasture.

Efforts of the prosecution then were directed toward establishing the Ku Klux Klan's connection with the incident and the examination of witnesses ended abruptly when Frank Bourland, who the lodge hall custodian testified, paid rent on the Ku Klux Klan rooms, refused to testify as to his connection with the organization. He also declined to answer the prosecution's query as to what a large box in the "property" room contained. Nineteen questions, all pertaining to the Ku Klux Klan, were asked him and he refused to answer all but one.

A sensation was produced at the first day of the hearing when Walter Carroll, Joe Carroll's brother, arose while on the witness stand and accused Ray L. Beede, local automobile dealer, and one of the defendants, of killing his brother during the fight. Later, in a signed statement before a notary public at Wilson, Carroll repudiated his testimony at the hearing and declared he knew nothing of the identity of any persons participating in the attack of his brother. The following day, however, he issued another signed statement here denying that he said he could not identify any of the party of masked men and declaring that his testimony at the hearing "stood."

Governor Asked to Take Action.

Due to conditions here, growing out of an investigation by the attorney general's department of alleged lax law enforcement in Carter county, a committee of local citizens called upon Governor Robertson and asked that he act in the case. This resulted in the commissioning of Attorney General Freeling to take personal charge of the prosecution of the case, superseding local county officers. The case has attracted a wide interest throughout the state and the court room is the same in which Clara Smith Hamon, was tried last spring for the murder of Jake L. Hamon, republican national committeeman and wealthy oil man. Present intentions of the prosecution, it was indicated, are to try seven of the defendants jointly and the remaining four, who requested severances, separately. The defendants are: Doctor E. C. Harlow, J. A. Gilliam, Ray L. Beede, C. G. Whitcomb, W. L. T. Hilton, Jeff Smith, J. D. (Curley) Smith, Tom Hales, J. A. Pitts, Dan Ridpath, Jr., and Frank Cardwell.

NORTH DAKOTA'S ROAD PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED

available materials and a definite location of the deposits.

In discussing the primary road systems, provided for in the present federal aid road law, Mr. Hathaway continued: "There are a few primary roads about which there would probably be no argument except in local details. Such a route would run west from Fargo, through Bismarck and on to the Montana line. Another would run west from Grand Forks through Devils Lake, Minot, Williston to the Montana line. There would probably be other east and west routes and several north and south routes, all of which should be studied very carefully before making a decision and all which would be interstate in character."

National System Grows

"There has been complaint," he continued, "from some quarters that this law takes too much out of the hands of the county commissioners but those people who make such complaint seem to forget that the federal government is contributing about one-half of the cost of the road which this act covers and if the state provides the other one-half the county can proceed with their own program and with their own funds." Mr. Hathaway requested his hearers to get away from the idea that when the state or national government appeal in a county they were intruders and explained that it was easier to co-ordinate the road work in the forty-eight states than in the 2,958 counties in the country. In closing, Mr. Hathaway quoted from a recent address of Thos. H. MacDonald, chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, as showing the new conception of the roads of the country. In speaking before the American Association of Highway Officials, Mr. MacDonald said: "We comprehend now, as we have not understood in the past, the influence exerted on national life by transportation. It is the factor we find now interposed between supply and demand, between the starving thousands and food supplies, between produce and consumer. It is the factor whose absence separates and whose presence ties together communities, states and the nation as a whole. To supply adequate and increased transportation facilities, is the motive that has influenced the American people to increase the number of motor vehicles in since 1910 more than 1800 per cent. To provide the complement of the motor vehicle, the improved highway is the underlying reason why larger funds have been made available from state and federal sources. The proper combining of these two serve a definite purpose in the nation's economy—this is highway transportation in the making."

Mr. Stanton, city bacteriologist, talked to the city commission on the recent request of members of the Community Council that the water and milk analysis reports be published. Mr. Stanton explained that the laboratory report of milk analysis, if published as made up for this purpose, might not be understood generally and might result in unfair conclusions. It was suggested during the conversation with the commission that milk grades be published, with the names of the distributors under the various grades, A, B and C. Mr. Stanton was to consult with some members of the Community Council and endeavor to arrange a method that would be mutually satisfactory.

Mr. Stanton, who had reported to the commission last meeting, that he had been barred from the reservoirs of the water company, said he had been informed by the management that the order was not intended to apply to any city employee. REVOLUTIONARY STUDENT-EDITOR IS "SENT DOWN"

Vice Chancellor and Proctors of Oxford University Are Not Bolsheviks

Oxford, Eng., Jan. 17.—Arthur E. Reade, a 20-year-old student of Worcester college, has been "sent down," otherwise removed from Oxford university by the vice chancellor and proctors for editing a revolutionary newspaper. Young Reade came to Oxford from Eton, the most fashionable public school in England last year and set forth his advanced views in "Free Oxford," a Communist Journal of Youth, an inter-university paper. Charles H. Gray, his associate editor, has been "sent down" for two terms.

A general young giant, Reade publicly proclaims his admiration for Lenin and his faith in the dictatorship of the proletariat. He gloried in the admission that his paper preached sedition. One of the offending paragraphs stated that "the bourgeoisie would be offered the alternative of surrender or extermination," and that "the destruction of a few would terrorize the rest into surrender."

The Oxford university authorities believe that Bolshevik propaganda among the English youth is becoming a menace.

Leonid Krassin, the Soviet trade envoy tried recently to deliver an address in connection with the Russian famine relief in the hall of the Union, the famous Oxford debating society, but permission to use the hall was refused, and Krassin delivered his speech in an assembly room belonging to the Society of Friends, admission to which was only gained by running the gauntlet of an uproarious crowd of non-supporters.

VISITOR HERE ASKS CITY TO GET NEW NAME

Chicagoan Writes to City Commission Protesting Against Use of Bismarck

Bismarck received praise from a visitor who happened to be in the city on business but he also added a criticism and suggestion—that the name of the Capitol City be changed.

The city commission, in meeting last night, received a letter from J. D. McCann, 4505 Woodlawn avenue, Chicago, Ill., stating that he had been much impressed with the city but was surprised that the city should retain the name of one who had opposed democratic ideals of government, and suggested the city ought to be named after some great American, such as Roosevelt.

T. M. Stanton, city bacteriologist, talked to the city commission on the recent request of members of the Community Council that the water and milk analysis reports be published. Mr. Stanton explained that the laboratory report of milk analysis, if published as made up for this purpose, might not be understood generally and might result in unfair conclusions. JURY DISAGREES IN BURCH CASE; NEW TRIAL SOON

Mrs. Obenchain came to Los Angeles from Chicago last July for a final interview with Kennedy and later she came to Evanston, Ill. The message to Burch read: "I need you and the friend I had last summer."

The "friend" according to the prosecution was a shot-gun. A Pullman porter testified Burch had a gun case with him when he reached Los Angeles. The proprietor of the hotel where Burch stopped said the latter went out about 7:30 the night of August 5 carrying a long package wrapped in newspapers. About the same time, according to other testimony, Burch rented an automobile under an assumed name.

Drive to Cottage.

Shortly after nine o'clock, it was testified, Kennedy and Mrs. Obenchain drove up to a small cottage owned by Kennedy in Beverly Glen, fifteen miles from Los Angeles. A few moments later two gun shots rang out. Mrs. Elizabeth Besanty, who lives next door to the Kennedy cottage testified she heard a man say "I've got him," just after the second shot. Soon afterwards Mrs. Besanty said she heard someone crashing through the bushes surrounding the Kennedy place, then the sound of a motor starting up somewhere towards the mouth of the Glen.

Earlier that evening Mrs. Besanty declared she saw a man she identified as Burch, drive past the Kennedy place, and after the shooting the same man passed, she said, while officers were gathered about the body of Kennedy who had been shot in the back of the head with a charge of buckshot. Louis Besanty, husband of Elizabeth, also told of seeing the man pass after the shooting, and declared it was Burch.

Mrs. Mary A. Balliff brought the dream element into the case in relating a conversation she said she had with Mrs. Obenchain the latter part of July. She said she had dreamed of seeing Mrs. Obenchain sitting along a country road with water surging towards her and a procession moving along the road. "I know exactly what that meant," Mrs. Obenchain said, according to the witness. "I feel something is going to happen to Belton." And Mrs. Balliff declared Mrs. Obenchain added she felt "Belton would not live long."

Visited Mystic Woman. Mrs. R. B. Whitlow, who called herself a "clairvoyant and psychic reader" testified Mrs. Obenchain had visited her to find out whether she would marry "her sweetheart" and later she called "Belton" after first asking Mrs. Whitlow to say something "favorable" to him. The witness said she told the couple they ought to marry.

The defense endeavored to impeach the testimony of practically all of the prosecution's leading witnesses, producing persons who declared that several of these had told stories at variance with their court testimony. Much time was devoted to the Besanty's stories. Several witnesses declared they did NOT see the man described as Burch in Beverly Glen at the time claimed by the state.

In addition to their denial that Burch had any part in the killing of Kennedy, the defense attorneys produced evidence concerning the witness's mental condition and asserted he was insane at the time of the tragedy. This evidence was to the effect that Burch chafed about three years ago from a person of quiet manners and clean living, to one who swore a great deal, admitted he had committed immoral acts, and smoked and drank.

and neglected his wife, who obtained a divorce from him soon after Kennedy was slain. This testimony was made the basis for hypothetical questions prepared for submission to alienists who were called on both sides to testify as to the prisoner's mental condition.

Mrs. Obenchain, who was indicted jointly with Burch, was granted a separate trial. After a protracted legal battle in which it was sought to have her trial first, and after she had changed attorneys several times, her case was set for February 6, 1922. Her divorced husband, who is a Chicago attorney, came to Los Angeles soon after her arrest and has taken an active part in her defense. He also obtained a marriage license to re-wed his former wife. Sheriff W. I. Traeger refused to permit them to be married in the Los Angeles county jail, where Mrs. Obenchain has been confined.

HAZEN TEAM IN NINTH VICTORY, BEATS STANTON

Hazen, N. D., Jan. 17.—Hazen high school defeated Stanton high school 35 to 22, in a game played at Stanton, Friday. The first half was very close, Stanton having the lead most of the time. The score at the end of the first half was 18 to 15 in favor of Stanton. Their forwards did some fast work this half. The second half the Hazen team played a better defensive game and held the Stanton team down to four points and they making 23 in the second half, the game ending 35 to 22. It was a good game to watch and not one-sided. Smith, of Hazen, did the star work, making 22 points for his team. Hazen guards also did good work. For Stanton, Gibbs and Nelson played a fine game. This makes nine victories for the Hazen team.

NEW FEATURES OF LAW

The federal government is putting its house in order as far as federal aid for the construction of roads is concerned, E. W. James, of Washington, D. C., chief division of design of the bureau of public roads, told the members of the North Dakota Good Roads association at their annual convention here today. Under the recent federal aid act, passed last November, a reasonably limited mileage of road must be built first, that along with it a secondary group may be built, but that this system, which shall reach every state, shall become a completed whole before promiscuous unsystematic construction will be tolerated.

"The apportionment to the state of North Dakota, under this new act, for the fiscal year 1922 is $1,104,714.42," Mr. James told the membership of the convention. "The new law introduces several new conditions into the co-operative relations between the states and the federal government. They are very interesting and very significant."

"The new law limits the expenditure of federal aid to a system of roads previously selected and designated by the states in agreement with the secretary of agriculture."

"It provides that where funds are not raised directly by the states but are furnished by the counties, townships or other sub-divisions, these funds shall nevertheless be placed under direct control of the state highway department."

"It sets up much more severe conditions with respect to the maintenance of federal highways built in the state and provides for the use of federal aid in maintaining such roads as are not satisfactorily maintained by the state. Funds so used are, however, then lost to the state. The state must refund the amount spent and no new projects are to be approved until the refund has been made."

"The law provides for a different proportion share of the United States government in certain western states."

Features of New Act

"The most significant feature of the act is the restriction which for the first time has been placed on the distribution of federal aid within the state. The act provides that each state shall, together with the Secretary of Agriculture and acting with his approval, lay out a system of federal aid highways on which federal aid is to be expended. This system shall comprise not more than seven per cent of the public road mileage of each state and it may comprise considerably less. This system is divided into two parts, called in the act, 'primary highways' and 'secondary highways.' The primary subdivision consists of not to exceed 37 of the roads on which federal aid may be expended, that is to say not more than three per cent. The remainder of such a system may be laid out will comprise the secondary highways."

Mr. James then went into the difficulties many of the states would have with the restriction of seven per cent and continued:

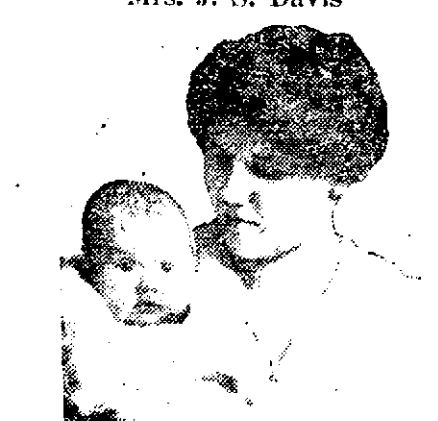

"In 1917 when it became necessary for the legislature of North Dakota, in order to secure the first apportionment of federal aid, to assent to the original act and create an adequate highway department, your law of March 3, 1917, provided for the mapping of a system of state highways. In laying out this system of roads a total of about 5,000 miles was selected. As your total road mileage is approximately 69,000 miles, you are allowed by a seven per cent system approximately 4,830 miles. It would appear, therefore, that the present state highway system of North Dakota represents, at least with respect to mileage, about what you may expect under the new federal highway act as the federal aid highway system of the state."

Defines Maintenance

Continuing Mr. James predicted that the new federal aid act would remain in force for a number of years as it represented a crystallizing of many projects and discussed the defects found in the act of 1916. In again coming to the more recent act, he stressed the maintenance provision, saying it probably would have been impossible to get President Harding's signature to an act which did not provide for this.

"The present act defines maintenance in its broadest sense," he continued, "as the constant making of needed repairs to preserve a smooth

GOOD HIGHWAYS URGED TO OPEN BEAUTY SPOTS OF NORTH DAKOTA TO EYES OF MOTORISTS OF STATE AND THOUSANDS OF TOURISTS.

Although the famous "Bad Lands" scenery of North Dakota has been extensively advertised it has not been seen by thousands of people in the state because of the lack of good highways. With improvement of the Red Trail to a point where it is now regarded as one of the best transcontinental highways, traffic to the "Bad Lands" is expected to increase.

Upper view is a scene on the Little Missouri river near Elkhorn ranch in the "Bad Lands."

Below in order, is a beauty spot near Harvey, a shady road east of Fort Lincoln, Bismarck, and below a scene on the Red Trail five miles east of Bismarck, showing road improvement.

E. W. James, assistant chief, bureau of public roads, Washington, D. C., and E. W. Hathaway, of St. Paul, district engineer, bureau of public roads, make addresses.

Governor R. A. Nestos will address the association tonight and officers will be elected.

Representatives of the association from all parts of the state are present for the meeting.

Trail Men Meet.

A meeting of the representatives of the various trail associations of the state was held in connection with the good roads association convention.

Methods of advertising trails, co-operation and other problems were discussed.

The following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, that it is the sense of the trail men present that trails may register with the secretary of state and their trail designation be protected until by legislative enactment a uniform system be prescribed."

It is expected, according to representatives, that a bill will be introduced at the next session of the legislature providing for the registering of trails.

George N. Keniston, of Bismarck, representative of the National Parks Highway, was elected president of the trail association and Thomas C. Hutchinson, of Williston, representative of the Roosevelt Trail was elected secretary. The following committee was appointed to draft recommendations to present to the legislative committee of the North Dakota Good Roads Association: Theo. Kahellek, of Kenmare, representing the North Star trail; B. A. Dickinson, of Hyder, representing the Parks Highway; T. C. Hutchinson, of Williston, representing the Roosevelt International Highway.

The following representatives of trails were present at the meeting: Theo. Kahellek, North Star trail; C. H. Burch, North Star trail; H. R. Freitag, Parks Highway; B. A. Dickinson, Parks Highway; H. P. Murphy, Sunshine trail; C. E. Danielson, Roosevelt International; Metigoshe-Black Hills, North Star trails; G. N. Keniston, National Parks Highway; Henry F. Dooley, Theodore Roosevelt International Highway; A. F. Bacon, Roosevelt North Star, Metigoshe-Black Hills trail; Jas. A. Willoy, International and Metigoshe-Black Hills trails; H. C. Hillis, International Trail; T. C. Hutchinson, Roosevelt and North Star trails; N. D. Good Roads association; R. L. Whitcomb, N. D. Good Roads Association.

A committee consisting of Theo. Kahellek of the North Star Trail, B. A. Dickinson of the Parks Highway and T. C. Hutchinson of the Theodore Roosevelt Trail was named to express in suitable resolutions the recommendation and discussion of the meeting. The resolutions are as follows:

Whereas, the North Dakota State Good Roads Association has been organized and operative during the last past year; and

Whereas, the popular demand for a carefully worked out system of highways in the interest of the development of the state, and conforming to the plans and purposes of the Bureau of Public Roads is an imperative and immediate demand; and

Whereas, the several trail organizations are the forerunners and outstanding propagandists strategically located highways; and

Whereas, experience in federal and state road construction has demonstrated the importance of a fixed plan and purpose; therefore,

Be It Resolved, that we do heartily endorse the North Dakota Good Roads Association as a means to the accomplishment of certain necessary legislation; and

Resolved, that the indefatigable and skillful activities of Mr. W. E. Holbein as State Secretary have proved his eminent fitness and fairness for the work; and

Resolved, that we memorialize the North Dakota State Good Roads Association and the North Dakota State Highway Commission to secure, by legislative enactment, the protection of the present established emblem, symbols and other road marks of trail organizations and by registration or otherwise protect the communities throughout the state from "wildcat" trail organizations by preventing registration and improvement trail organizations; and

Resolved, that we offer our wholehearted and unqualified support to the North Dakota State Good Roads Association in the conviction that their mature reflection will result in a program of legislative enactment fair to every portion of the state."

ARNOLD MAKES APPLICATION FOR PENSION

He Applied Under The Name of Connor and Is More Than 80 Years Old

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 15.—Twenty years ago Ben Arnold was one of the well known characters in mid-western Dakota, especially in the vicinity of Pierre. He was a typical frontiersman and was connected with the military expeditions of the Sioux campaign. He was a packer with Custer. He carried the news of the Custer fight on the little Big Horn to Crook's command at old Fort Phil Kearney. He was a storehouse of Pioneer history of a very dependable type.

But Ben Arnold is no more. In fact Ben Arnold never was. Application for a Civil War pension a short time ago from Ben M. Connor who gave Lemmon, South Dakota, as his home started an investigation. War department records revealed the name of Connor but for more than 50 years the man claimed no pension from the government and it was taken for supposed that he had been among the missing in the turmoil following the great civil strife.

Inquiry at Lemmon failed to disclose Connor. Finally Charles H. Burke, commissioner of Indian affairs became interested in the case. He discovered that Arnold was the man claiming the pension and that for some unexplained reason he had given up the name of Connor in favor of Arnold in 1861.

Mr. Burke found living at Buchtel Ohio, an older brother, Fernando Connor. This brother had received no word of Ben for more than two score years nor had he known that he established his identity to the satisfaction of the authorities and will soon receive the pension he might have been enjoying for the last half century.

Arnold or as his name now appears to be Connor is more than 80 years of age.

New York, Jan. 17.—The vogue of word which we have come to associate with long, trailing, silken-scented garments—has finally arrived at meaning something very much one-piece, very much abbreviated and un-ornamented.

The newest thing in a negligee, for the figure youthful enough to take it, is a straight garment which looks as if it was nothing more than a width of some silken material with an opening clipped in for the neck and two slits for the arms.

And, indeed, it isn't much more! This Euph and Garbe negligee is hand made, stitched together with brightly colored wool. No attempt is made to conceal the stitches—they are part of the design and color scheme.

A heavy wool cord ties about the waist and appears at the front of the gown in a knot of wool flowers. Wool embroidery is holding its own, indeed! It is evident on hats, frocks, negligees, blouses and even gloves.

This Bandler wrap, a ligature model of duvetyne and moleskin, is straight of line and is distinctive in that it drops from the shoulders without the flare which usually accompanies such garments.

The lining of satin stripe pussy willow is sheer and delicate. And note the villi Mayland wears! Long veils of Spanish lace are seen often along Fifth avenue—though only the tail and slender drape venture such soft effects which add to breadth.

WAY DOWN EAST BIG FEATURE FOR CAPITOL THEATER

Unusual interest attaches to the opening of the coming engagement in this city of D. W. Griffith's great spectacle, "Way Down East," which will be seen for the first time here on Monday, at the Capitol Theater. "Way Down East" will be presented here for several days.

It is such a possible, this latest masterpiece, production by the genius of the screen bids fair to eclipse even the enormous vogue enjoyed by "The Birth of a Nation." Now being offered in the leading cities of the land, "Way Down East" is attracting capacity throngs and seats are sought weeks in advance.

This picturization of the famous stage success furnished by Lottie Blair Parker and Joseph Grismer goes much further than the original tale. Mr. Griffith has begun where they halted. He has not made it a provincial thing; attempting to explain nothing he has welded a theory of eternal love and in so doing has removed his people from time and period. Possessed of a vision and mentality too great to be handicapped by anything, he has brought forth an epic far more than clever—it has the ring of genius. The simple fun of plain people is brought forth in greater measure than the stage play version could ever hope to attain and offers keen contrast to the sufferings and woes of Anna Moore, her hopes and struggles. Probably the greatest cast of capable players ever assembled for a motion picture production was engaged in the making of this work and it ends in a thrilling climax of spectacular scenes amid the veering flaws of a New England blizzard and the explosive breaking of a river in gorge, all of which enthrall as only a Griffith effort can move audiences. The tender moments, the tragic episodes, the laughable situations and the stirring scenes are accentuated by unusual orchestral accompaniment, pronounced the most ambitious yet attempted in the theater.

The "Fantasia of Melody" which will show here tonight is one of the finest acts appearing on any circuit.

EXCUSES, THEME OF REV. STRUTZ

Takes Text For Sermon At Revival

The text of last evening's Evangelistic services held at the Evangelical church, corner of Rosser and Seventh street, Rev. C. F. Strutz, pastor, was taken from St. Luke, 14th chapter, 8th verse, "And they all with one consent began to make excuse." One of the many strong points of the sermon delivered by Rev. Strutz was a suppositionally written asked of the audience their willingness of signing a letter, addressed to the King of Heaven, and reading as follows: "While sitting in the Evangelical church at Bismarck, N. D., January 16, 1922, I received a very pressing invitation from one of your servants to be present at the marriage supper of Your only begotten Son. I pray thee have me excused." However, no one expressed their willingness of signing this one. When in turn one worded the same as above was submitted by Rev. Strutz, only ending as follows: "I hasten to reply, By the Grace of God, I will be present." The audience responded by standing.

The meetings here have been well attended. The sermon for this evening will be very interesting. All are cordially invited. Song service at 7:30 P. M., and sermon at 8 o'clock P. M.

"OLD NEST," ONE OF BEST MOVIES OF YEAR, HERE

"The Old Nest," shown at the Eltine last night, and which is again to be shown tonight and tomorrow night, is one of the finest motion pictures brought to Bismarck during the last year.

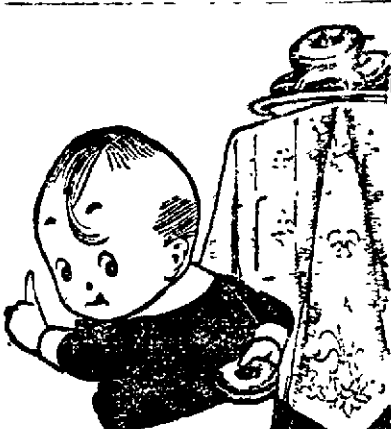

"The Old Nest" is produced by Rupert Hughes, the eminent novelist, and it has attracted wide attention and favorable comment throughout the country for the strong characterizations, and dramatic quality, intervening faithfully the story of the famous playwright and author.

THE HIGH SPOTS
What do you think of a racing automobile that made 54 miles at a speed of five and a quarter miles an hour?

You remember how Tommy Milton's car made 153 miles an hour last year on the Daytona track—and smile.

Yet the car that made the slow speed once thrilled the whole country. For it won America's first auto race. This was in Chicago, Nov. 28, 1895.

The driver had to jump out frequently and shove his car out of ruts and snowdrifts. Occasionally, when he got stuck, he merely had to throw oily sand on the belt.

In 26 years, the automobile has been developed to the point where it can travel like a cyclone and almost climb the side of a house.

You often marvel at the big scale on which we do things in America.

More wonderful is the speed with which we take a crude device and perfect it.

Prehistoric man made himself a better weapon than his fists, by tying a chunk of jagged flint to a wooden handle, binding it with rawhide thongs.

It took thousands of years for his brain to conceive the idea of sharpening the chunk of flint to crude hatchet shape.

It took additional thousands of years before a primitive genius discovered that the best way to attach the handle was by hammering it into a hole gouged through the flint.

Nearly all invention was equally slow in being perfected, up to comparatively recent years. The cave men, or even the people of the 15th century, could have been given the first Wright airplane, and it would have taken them 1000 years or more to develop it as modern man did in a few years of World War.

A crude device, a vague idea or the germ of a theory is announced in the newspapers. Immediately a host of minds seize upon it and begin perfecting.

Before you realize it, the device or idea has been perfected and applied and, stamped out by automatic machines, is being dumped on the market with millions of dollars of advertising rushing its sale.

The bizarre idea should never be laughed at, in our day.

Inside of five years, some one probably will find a practical application for the Einstein theory and begin flooding the world with it, like Ford's cars or Ingersoll's watches.

IMPORTANCE OF THE PLODDERS

The man who wound the town clock at Staple, England, every day for 35 years, quits his job. Prices and wages had violent upheavals during the 35 years. But the clock-winder went serenely ahead, his salary of 24 cents a week never changing.

Now that he is gone, and potential successors are asking higher pay, the clock-winder is appreciated.

Ever stop to think of the people who go through life quietly, never in the spotlight, toiling patiently to provide your comforts?

The stars get the applause but there wouldn't be any show without the stage-hands behind the scenes.

ABSENT

The chief crops raised by American farmers in 1921 were worth $5,675,877,000, says final government report.

That is $3,400,000,000 less than the 1920 crops, and $3,000,000,000 less than the crops of 1919.

That "less" explains a lot about business depression. It shows how much the farmers' ability to purchase manufactured products has been reduced.

EGG PRICES DROP

Egg prices tumble. Housewives chuckle. Much moaning from egg speculators, who lose $900,000 in one week in Chicago alone.

The egg horde piled up so big that it toppled over of its own weight.

The egg speculator is like all gamblers. He rarely recognizes the psychological moment for unloading. "Come on, just one more round." It's like liquor—the last drink brings the jag.

Don't chuckle too loudly. The gamblers have a system of doing it all over again, to recoup their losses. As a gambling device, the deck of cards and the put-and-take top are pinheads alongside the humble egg.

DODGE THESE POWERFUL ALLIES OF DEATH

Organic diseases of the heart killed 151,000 Americans in 1920, reports the census bureau. This was 13,000 more than in 1919. Fast living! Tuberculosis killed 122,000 in 1920. This was 10,000 less than in 1919. Health campaigns are slowly getting this dread disease under control.

Cancer's victims totaled 89,000 in 1920, or 5,000 more than the year before. Cancer, which usually results from chronic irritation, is curable in its early stages.

Our chances of dodging these and all other diseases are increased by the most common sense rules of living—plenty of fresh air and sleep, good food and not too much of it, outdoor exercise and no over-strain.

Death's greatest ally now is alcoholic poisoning. The toll has started, soon will show up full-force.

MARRIAGE

Twenty-four is the ideal age for a woman to marry, says Professor Ralph L. Powers, of the University of California. That will start a lot of arguments, opinion probably dividing 50-50.

Powers says, give a girl five years in business and she will make a better home maker, wife and mother. Less chance for argument there.

Business training makes a woman more economical and a better manager. It gives her the power of independence. Best of all, it improves on instinct in making her a better judge of men, most of whom need a lot of judging.

POWER

A light that can be seen 140 miles away is perfected by Elmer A. Sperry, wizard of illumination. Its straight upward penetration is 30 miles.

Lighthouses don't need such powerful beacons. Many people wonder if Sperry's searchlight is a useful device. It will be, in a few years, to help guide airplanes swarming through black night by the tens of thousands.

LIFE

At Valladolid, Spain, scientists in the official agricultural college took one grain of wheat.

It sprouted into 12 shoots. These were cut and transplanted, and the process repeated several times.

The harvest was 322,000 grains of wheat, all grown in a year from the one original grain.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

"SIGNS OF HEALING"

The New York Times from its diagnosis of international affairs observes that "benign political phagocytes seem to be successfully attacking the pathogenic militaristic and economic microbes in many suffering parts of the earth."

The Middle West has been wondering just what the symptoms of world movements indicated, and it is grateful for the "signs of healing" described above. Sympathy is decidedly with the "benign political phagocytes" in their attack. Their name sounds better than the microbes. It is hoped that a counter attack does not turn what promises to be victory into defeat. Atta boy, phagocytes!—Omaha World-Herald.

CHINA'S TARIFF

How many people that criticize China for the backward state of her government and the appalling condition of her finances are aware of the fact that she has no power whatever to fix the rate of her tariff on imported goods?

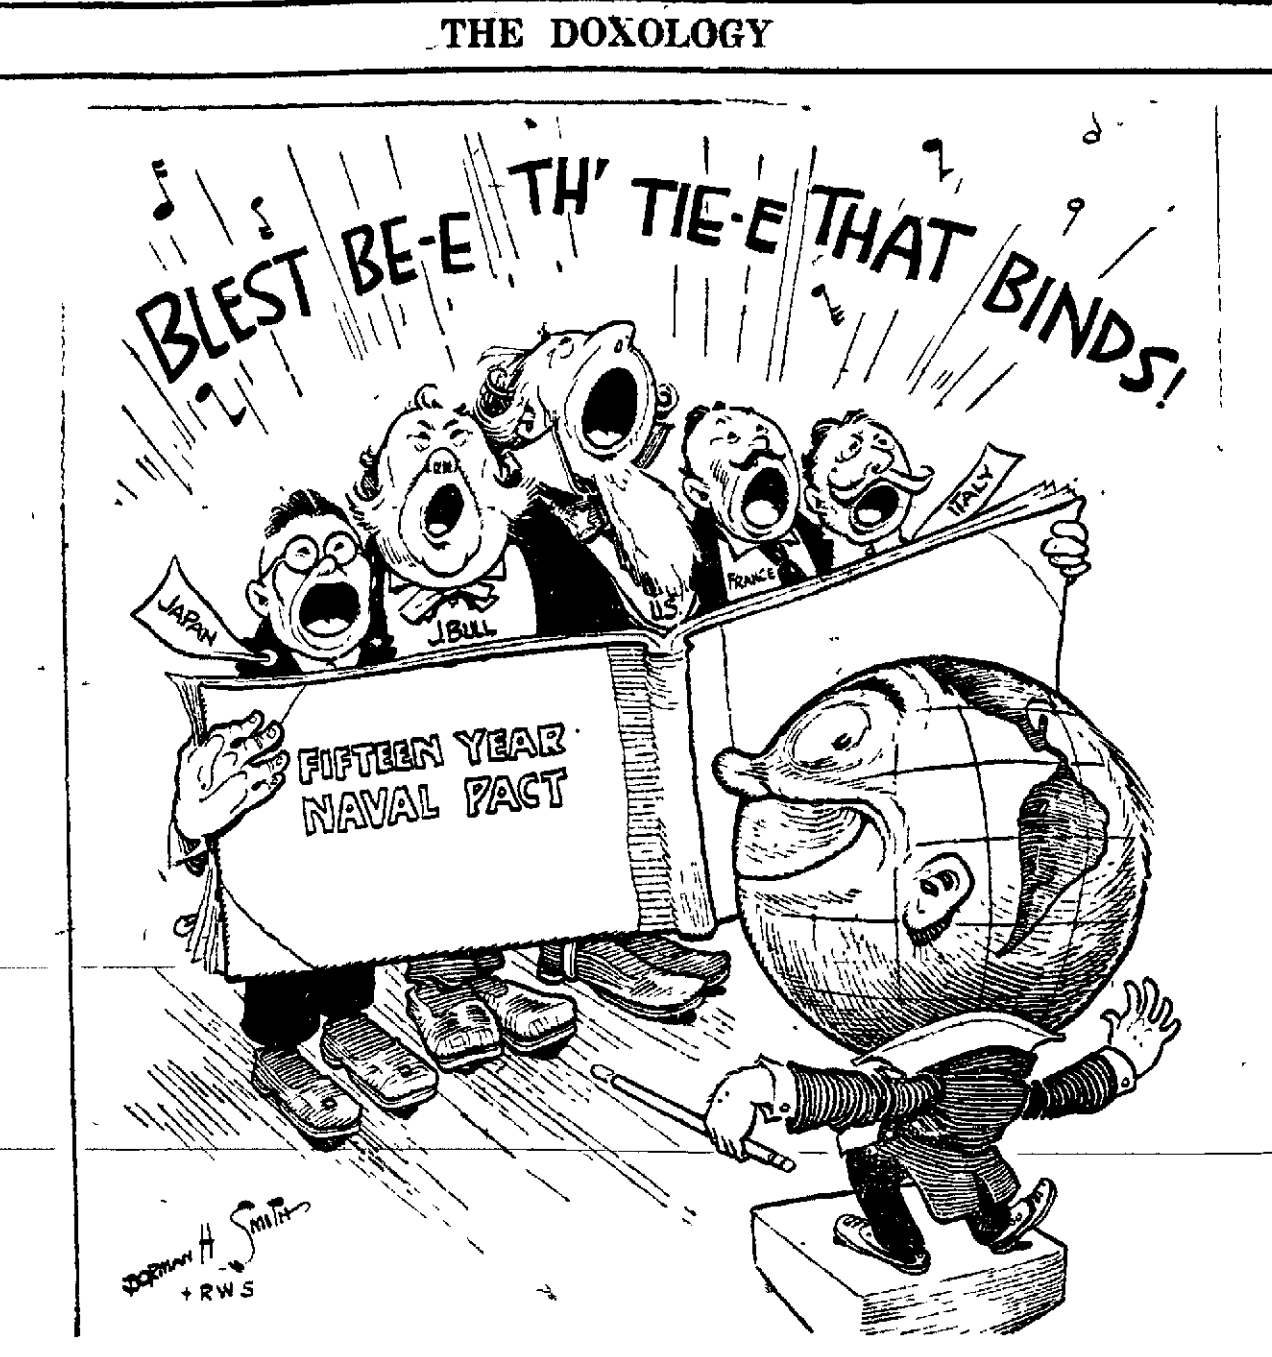

Imagine the United States government trying to get along with a flat rate of 5 per cent on all imported goods and with outsiders not only fixing that rate but also fixing the valuation of the goods on which it is levied!

We should not think that we were an independent nation, yet China is asked to regard herself as independent and self-governing though her tariff is fixed by treaties imposed upon her, and valuations of imported articles are made only at intervals so long that the change in prices makes a nominal 5 per cent duty actually something very much less.

On a falling market the 5 per cent would mean actually more, but in that case the powers would see to it that there was a more frequent revision of valuations.

Unless China is granted autonomy in her tariff policy—limited only by the open door policy in the sense of no discrimination—she cannot be an independent, self-governing nor a solvent nation.

There was grave alarm when China recently found herself unable to pay certain loans, but there was no mention of the fact that she is powerless to increase her revenues by tariff revision.—San Francisco Bulletin.

QUEEN FAVORS ECONOMY, THEN ASKS A "RAISE"

Queen, Queen Dowager and Princess All Get Larger Allowances

The Hague, Jan. 17.—All princes of the German side of the royal family of Netherlands are barred from right of succession to the Holland throne by an amendment to the Dutch constitution which has been agreed upon in parliament. Hitherto all members of the House of Orange having as their ancestor William the Silent possessed the right to succession. The bill, however, has not yet been adopted although its form has generally been agreed upon after a long debate.

The measure stipulates that only the progeny of the present Queen Wilhelmina shall ascend the throne. There has been much argument over the question of what should be done to provide for the possibility that the young Princess Juliana, now 12 years old, may not provide a male heir to the throne. Some months ago a bill was prepared by the commission of inquiry which provided, in that event, that a referendum should be held to determine whether Holland should retain its monarchical form of government or become a republic.

A bill now under discussion in parliament, however, makes no mention of a republic and mentions only a referendum for the election of a new monarch.

Another point on which agreement has been reached in parliament is that neither King nor Queen of Holland shall any longer have the right to declare war except with the approval of the States General.

Queen Wilhelmina's civil list has been increased from 600,000 florins to 1,200,000 (about $480,000). The allowance of Queen Dowager Emma has also been doubled, and is now fixed at 300,000 florins ($120,000). Princess Juliana is to get 200,000 florins ($80,000) a year when she reaches the age of 13, which will be on April 30 next. This amount is also double that allowed by the original constitution.

The Queen's request for the doubling of her allowance aroused considerable criticism, especially as it followed her speech at the opening of parliament in which she advocated the greatest public economy.

Russia Suffers From Hunger and Typhus

Samara, Jan. 17.—Cold weather is bringing with it much typhus to add to the misery of hungry Russia. Crowded refugee homes, railway stations and trains afford the typhus-bearing lice an excellent opportunity to spread the malady.

The danger to foreigners is even greater than to Russians and, consequently the medical officers of the American Relief Administration are taking every precaution to guard the personnel against the disease.

Because of the lack of sanitary precautions in Russia, the American Relief Administration is not enlisting any foreign women in its personnel.

FOLEY'S HAS NEVER FAILED

January is a bad month for influenza, la grippe and bronchial troubles. It is unwise to neglect the slightest cough or cold. Foley's Honey and Tar gives prompt relief, gets right at the trouble, covers raw inflamed surfaces with a healing coating, clears the air passages, eases stuffy breathing and permits sound, refreshing health-building sleep. Mrs. F. A. Gibson, 1547 College Ave., Racine, Wis., writes: "Foley's has never failed in giving immediate relief, and I am never without it."

If a man and woman have both reached the age of 50, the woman on the average, will outlive the man.

Today's word is DISSEMBLE. It's pronounced—dis-sem-bul with accent on the second syllable.

It means—to hide, conceal, mask, pretend.

It comes from—Latin "dis," away from, and English "resemble."

Companion word—dissembler.

It's used like this—"Though he had heard bad news, he dissembled his grief at the party."

Government Employees Against 10-Hour Day

Geneva, Jan. 17.—Attempts to increase the working day from eight to ten hours are being opposed by government employees. About 35,000 of them took part in a demonstration in Bern against the bills recently introduced in parliament to increase the working hours and to diminish the allowances made on account of the high cost of living.

Special trains brought the demonstrators from all parts of the country and they made an imposing procession as they marched past the parliament buildings. There was no disorder.

Necklaces Made Of Wolves' Dogs' Teeth

Berlin, Jan. 17.—Necklaces of wolves' and dogs' teeth were among the relics of the early stone age reported to have just been discovered in Westphalia, near Hengeln, by scientific investigators. A stone chest containing stone vessels was unearthed.

Don't Let Business Interfere With Golf

Paris, Jan. 17.—Parisian golfers unable, because of business, to go to their country clubs, have brought a golf links right into the heart of Paris. An indoor golf club, unique in Europe, has just been opened on the Champs-Elysees, with putting greens transplanted from Dieppe.

The greens are laid in the middle of a long hall and tables are set around them so that members can dine while others play or have dinner after a game. The lofty tunnel or hall where the game is played, is illuminated at night and makes possible practice shots of 40 yards.

When the ball hits the side curtains, it is returned to the green on an incline plane. There are many ingenious bunkers of various shapes made of real turf. Practice in approach shots is afforded in many ways.

Membership in the new club is restricted to the members of the leading Paris clubs and 250 persons already have applied for membership. Indoor golf now is expected to become a popular sport among wealthy Parisians.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

say that w-was fast traveling," he said. "Wh-where am I?" "You're up in the sky," said Nancy. "Are you hurt?"

The stove lay down with a groan. "Sky!" he groaned, "sky! Then I must be a stov-angel. I s-s'pose I'll grow wings."

"Oh, no," Buskins hurried to assure him. "You're all right. You're not an angel. You're in Fairyland, not in Heaven. The wind blew you up here."

"Same thing!" groaned the stove. "They don't eat either place, and much use I'll be. No more bakings of bread, no more brown gravy for the children, no more lemon pies, no more mashed potatoes, no more—"

"You mustn't feel so bad," said Nick. "We'll take care of you. Can't we send him home, Mr. Buskins?"

"Sure!" said Buskins, taking out a notebook. "We'll take the name and address of your owner, Mr. Stove, and send you back as good as new. But you'll have to excuse me a minute now. I hear more things coming."

There were poppings and crashings everywhere as more and more objects large and small burst through the floor, or ground, I should say, of Emptyland. Chimneys, plows, chicken-coops, scare-crows, rain-barrels, cows, cats, chickens, pigs, geese, automobiles, brooms, trees and almost everything in the dictionary, including family washings. It was, indeed, no longer Emptyland, but the Land of Everything.

Buskins went from one poor object to another, taking names down in his book. By and by he came back. "Kid-ees, I can't understand a tenth of them. Can you help?"

"Of course we can," laughed Nancy holding up the charm the Mushroom had given her. "Anything from Fiji to Chinese."

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Bismarck people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mrs. H. Steinmetz of 113 Second street, endorsed Doan's ten years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

Some time ago I used a couple of boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills from Lenhart's Drug Store and they cured me of a severe dull aching through the small of my back," says Mrs. Steinmetz. "I had been annoyed for some time with a lameness and soreness through my loins and a tired and languid feeling. I got no relief until I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills." (Statement given October 17, 1919.)

On October 14, 1913, Mrs. Steinmetz said: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills made for me some years ago is still permanent. I am glad to again endorse them and I always recommend Doan's to my friends when I hear them complaining of kidney trouble."

LEGION IN LOAN BUSINESS

Fargo, N. D. Post Adjutant Works Out Plan for the Benefit of His Buddies.

The first instance in which the American Legion has gone into the trust, savings and loan business is reported from Fargo, N. D.

To encourage thrift and to help the needy, the post, on January 1, 1921, instituted an American Legion Bonus Loan association from plans worked out by Arthur F. Colar, post adjutant.

Four hundred of the post's 700 members already have deposited sums from $3 to $25 on which five per cent interest is paid. A Legion man wishing to borrow assigns his state compensation claim to the Legion—it will require eight years for North Dakota to pay all service men the bonus awarded them. The borrower may obtain up to 50 per cent of the amount to be awarded him by the state. He pays interest at 8 per cent.

Business is transacted through a Fargo bank. To date more than fifty loans have been made and more than $20,000 has been paid into the savings fund. A dividend is paid semi-annually to depositors. Immediately upon being granted a loan, the person to whom it is made must open a savings account to insure proper expenditure of the money. Legion posts in many states have written the Fargo post for information upon which to base a similar system.

CHINA SEEKING BETTERMENT OF HER GOVERNMENT

Traveler Speaks to Local Audience on Progress Made in Great Empire

ASKS FAVORABLE OPINION

China is a nation, of the people, by the people and for the people. This statement was made by Miss Jessie Ackermann in her lecture on "China at the present time," at the American Legion hall last evening. The program was opened with several musical numbers. Henry Halvorson sang, "An Old Fashioned Town," and an encore. Mrs. H. O. Wray played Chopin's C Sharp Minor. Miss Hazel Nielson introduced the speaker, Miss Ackermann, who as an introduction to her lecture on China, spoke of the part women were taking in human affairs at this time. Miss Ackermann said that the war had made it necessary for women to go into business, that the world was less twenty million men at the signing of the Armistice and that women had helped to take their places. The motto of the Women in business is "Cooperation with the work of the men and producing a larger amount for themselves." Miss Ackermann characterized the women as the "Reserve Force."

China Today. She then spoke of China and the various events that have placed China where it is today. Great Britain forced China to raise opium and this put an end to the great financial resources of the country and because of other laws passed, decreased the import and export duties.

When China needed money to finance her country some of her resources were given as security. At the beginning of the war nearly all of China's resources were held as security.

The Chinese were prevented from getting the proceeds of their post-offices and laws were passed preventing them from doing anything to better their condition. Then during the Great War when the United States negotiated with China to couple to help France in the war it was agreed that at the close of the war all claims to Shanghai, the oldest, wealthiest, and largest province of China, would be restored to China. The capital of China had been in this province for 1,100 years. The people of China wanted this to be restored to them because all Chinese civilization had originated there.

Miss Ackermann gave a graphic description of the temple erected to the memory of Confucius. Eighteen enormous marble columns surrounded the building. Dragons wound around each column to about half way up where the head and front claws of the animal are thrown out. There was also a small temple to the wife of Confucius here, and 71 small temples to his 71 disciples.

Introduce New Alphabet. The Chinese are now introducing a new alphabet of 39 letters, which it is said will greatly simplify the language. They are also planning schools for 40 million Chinese children. A minister of education is in charge of the work in China. The United States is the only civilized country in the world whose cabinet does not contain a minister of education.

Miss Ackermann said that the Chinese believed that "no nation can hammer out civilization for another." She also said that China had solved a way to keep out of war by boycotting all countries in favor of war.

Miss Ackermann concluded with an appeal for the people of China who are now standing where the people of the United States once stood, and who are now working for a larger democracy and for the right of self determination.

FRENCH GIRL IS "LIVING MEMORY" TO PARENTS OF DEAD U. S. BOY

MLLE. MIRIELLE MASSON AND (INSET) MRS. FREDERICK P. PATTON.

By NEA Service
Glencoe, Ill., Jan. 17.—Mlle. Mireille Masson, a pretty French girl, is making her home with Dr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Patton, of Glencoe—and playing the part of a "living memory" to the Pattons' dead son, killed a year ago in an auto accident. During the World War, Dr. Patton, a surgeon with the A. E. F., quit the front for a rest period in Paris. He visited at the home of Professor Arme Masson, where he met Mireille, Masson's 15-year-old daughter.

She became a favorite and he told her of his son, John—just her age. After the war Patton returned home and John was killed. The tragedy imperiled Mrs. Patton's health and Dr. Patton wrote to Professor Masson, begging that Mireille be sent to America to visit them.

So it was that the little French girl came to the Patton home. She has taken the place of the boy "just her age," and Mrs. Patton is rapidly improving in health.

URGE PARKS IN STATE, BETTER COUNTY ROADS

Resolutions Committee of Good Roads Association Makes Report

The resolutions committee of the North Dakota State Good Roads Association, composed of S. T. May, B. A. Dickinson and H. P. Murphy, prepared for submission to the meeting today resolutions embodying: Endorsement of association's constitutional provision that it shall be a non-political body. Requesting federal bureau of public roads and state highway commission to consider desirability of determining standard of improvement in southwestern section of state by proper consideration of existing and future traffic needs and conditions rather than by an abstract adherence to arbitrary and general standards established without specific regard to locality or conditions, which have made it impossible for some southwestern counties to accept state and federal aid.

Urging highway authorities and road officials of the state to provide effective maintenance of roads preferably by patrol, for all roads that are now in condition or that can readily be placed in condition for such maintenance.

Urging the association to lend support to establishment enlargement and perpetuation of national and state parks within the state "not only as a means of increasing the appreciation of its citizens of the value and advantages of the state, but also to induce tourists to prolong their stays within our boundaries."

Calling attention of each board of county commissioners "to the importance and advantages of appointing a county superintendent of highways to concentrate the road and bridge funds and their expenditure under his direction and to provide for the systematic planning and improvement of a county system of roads connecting the adjacent parts of the state highway system."

Calling upon congress to make appropriations of $100,000,000 annually for a five-year period to be expended under the terms of the federal highway act and offering cooperation to any state or national organizations interested "in the sound development of our highways."

The resolutions also contained a statement of regret over the death of James P. Lamb, of Nelson county, member of the association's board of directors; thanking the highway commission for courtesies and endorsing efficient work of the commission in the cause of good roads, thanking E. G. Patterson proprietor of the McKenzie hotel for courtesies; expressing general appreciation of treatment received in Bismarck and commending the officers and employees of the association.

DISAPPEARS IN THE EARTH

Mystery of "Vanishing River" in Mexico Has Long Been a Puzzle to Scientists.

One of the most remarkable rivers in the world flows through the northern part of Mexico. It borders the great Mexican desert and to reach it one need travel only one day's journey on horseback from the Rio Grande, which marks the southern boundary of the United States in that region. The extraordinary river in question has its source in the hills bordering the desert. It flows southward for some twenty miles as smoothly as any well-behaved river, but, suddenly, as it flows between high bluffs, it becomes whirling rapids—rapids so strong and so dangerous that no man has ever been brave enough to attempt to cross the rushing waters.

One follows the rapids, as he walks along the bluff on either side, for about two miles, and then that river vanishes utterly. Hence the name Vanishing river. It disappears suddenly, mysteriously, completely, into the earth itself, and not into a cave, as one would suppose. Scientists have tried in vain to ascertain where that river goes; all that they have yet announced as the result of their explorations is that the river seems to drop sheer into the earth, as over the brink of a bottomless abyss, and that this Vanishing river is the most amazing body of water known to geographers.

PROPER METHOD OF READING

Bacon's Advice to "Weigh and Consider" is as Valuable Today as When First Given.

Bacon is right, as he generally is, when he bids us read not to contradict and refute, not to believe and take for granted, not to find talk and discourse, but to weigh and to consider. Yes, let us read to weigh and to consider. In the times before us that promise or threaten deep political, economical, and social controversy, what we need to do is to induce our people to weigh and consider. We want them to cultivate energy without impatience, activity without restlessness, inflexibility without ill-humor. I am not going to preach to you any indifference to money, or to the pleasures of social intercourse, or to the esteem and goodwill of our neighbors, or to any other of the consolations and necessities of life. But, after all, the thing that matters most, both for happiness and for duty, is that we should strive habitually to live with wise thoughts and right feelings.—"Studies in Literature," Lord Morley.

First Firemen.

Fire-fighting organizations of men are known to have existed in the Second century before Christ. Heron of Alexandria, 200 years before the Christian era, in an old manuscript which has escaped destruction, described an hydraulic machine used in Egypt during the time of the Ptolemies. It was composed of two brass cylinders resting on a wooden base with pistons fitted into them—in its principles practically like our present engine.

The Romans had squads of men to carry water in "hamas," or light vases, to the scene of an outbreak, where it was projected on to the fire by those in charge of the "siphones" or hand pumps. The precise nature of this instrument has not been determined, but from specimens found in excavations it must have been much like the old-fashioned syringe used by gardeners. These large organizations of men gave the Roman authorities trouble by their turbulence.

Mention is made of the medieval use of forcing pumps as fire engines at Augsburg in 1518.

The London Plane Tree.

Citizens of London have reason to be grateful to the plane tree, which beautifies their city more than any other English tree. It is called the London plane. With lofty dignity, clothed in pleasant green, it stands quietly in the parks and squares, a cheering sight to many hurrying workers. Sometimes it is stunted, but when it is free to expand it becomes one of the finest trees in the country. Some of them in Kew Gardens, "oh! so near to London," are magnificent. Many London children, who know little of the beauties of nature in the country, are familiar with the London plane. It is such a hardy tree that it flourishes in many strange corners of the city. It is strange to think that its origin is unknown. It is pleasant to know that it came to London as an outcast from the great family of trees, and in return for the sanctuary afforded, has given the great city of its best.

Ireland's "Mayflower."

Students of Anglo-American history have directed attention to the fact that Ireland also had her Mayflower. This was the Eaglewing, which, no later than 1636, set sail with a full passenger list of Ulster men for the American colonies. There were forty passengers, among whom were four ministers. Ill luck began at once, for unconquerable winds drove the vessel to the Scottish coast. A leak then held the ship in the "Kyles of Bute." Starting again, she achieved mid-Atlantic, but there a hurricane did much damage and caused such general discouragement that finally the Irish pilgrims made up their minds that Providence was frowning on their emigration, and turned their vessel back to Ireland.

Women priests dominate the Duns, a curious tribe inhabiting a section of British North Borneo.

Fly's wing is one of the most perfect and delicate pieces of mechanism nature has produced.

MRS. KATHERINE A. RAUSER, HER DOLL CLOTHES FACTORY AND ONE OF THE SHOW CASES.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—When a business woman's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of—doll clothes.

What then?

Fortune and success—in the case of Mrs. Katherine A. Rauser, head of a $100,000 corporation. Employes—100—Women.

Mrs. Rauser's factory is really a dressmaking establishment of the highest order, where doll costumes receive as much attention as do those of women of the most particular dress tastes.

She started operations with one sewing machine. At that time there were no dolls on the market with
